CURIOSITY RAMPANT

While a Mighty Struggle For Pennies Advertises a Big Clothing House.

It's a hard guess as to whether curiosity or a desire to get something without cost is strongest in humanity. No matter which it may be, they both had a fair test last week, a week of events in ever-busy Hopkinsville. Many thousands of people stood in the sun for hours waiting to see an airship fly. That was curiosity, and who could blame them? But it wasn't new to everybody.

The next "attraction" was at Main and Seventh streets Saturday afternoon. Up in the third story of Wall & McGowan's James Wootton and Emmett Jones had been stationed, each with a pocket full of pennies, around a trunk that was said to be unbreakable, and the person holding the number corresponding to the one in the trunk which was to be taken out after the trunk had been thrown down to the concrete sidewalk, was to be the trunk's owner. In the scramble for the coppers which the two young men so generously threw into the crowd below boys and men, black and white, they got as badly mixed up as a dish of well scrambled eggs. That was a desire to get money for nothing, a terrible "failing" of mankind today.

But the magnet that drew the crowd was one of the modern wonders of the world—a trunk that bids defiance to the most expert baggage-smasher on any railroad—East, West, North or South. That trunk was what everyone in the crowd wanted, and there they stood, gazing at the boys throwing away pennies (not their own) as if they grew on trees, each hoping when the lucky number was called that he would have the duplicate in his pocket. That was believing in luck. Solomon, wise as he was in his generation, didn't know it all, for he had never seen a trunk that a baggage-smasher couldn't ruin at his first effort. There is "something new under the sun." It may not be the airship, but it is an unbreakable trunk, and Wall & McGowan are authority for the statement and their demonstration proves it.

Wholesale Blackmail.

As a result of a conference between Generals Orozco, Salanaz and Carvajal in Juarez it is said $100,000 in gold has been demanded of the Mexican Northwestern railroad. If the money is not paid the railroad will be destroyed.

Attempt to Escape.

Paducah, Ky., July 26.—Louis Blakeslee jumped from an Illinois Central passenger train at Kuttawa and tried to escape by swimming the Cumberland River. The swift current was too much for the handcuffed prisoner and he returned to the bank where he was recaptured.

Kentucky Leads.

Kentucky guardsmen at Camp Pettus, Anniston, Ala., occasioned much favorable comment, the United States regulars declaring them the best disciplined troops to arrive at the maneuver grounds.

The Astor Estate.

John V. Goggey, a State transfer tax appraiser, yesterday was appointed to appraise the estate of Col. John Jacob Astor. It is expected the State will get $5,000,000 from the estate.

PROFITS OF NOVEL WRITING

David Graham Phillips Produced Many "Best Sellers," but They Didn't Make Him Rich.

Statements that have been published in connection with the administration of the estate of the late David Graham Phillips, the novelist, who was killed a year ago by a man who had convinced that one of Phillips' stories was a personal reflection upon his family, throw some light upon the earnings of modern fiction writers. Phillips was one of the most popular of the present school of novelists. His books commanded an immediate market, and were frequently among the "six best sellers"—that much-desired classification representative of the public taste. Nevertheless, they did not make him wealthy. His sister, who is his sole heir, will probably receive not more than $13,000 in royalties from the publishers. The story that was published immediately after the death of the writer gained a large sale, owing to the circumstances of its appearance, and netted $8,359.03, being the leader of the entire list. The royalties now due on others range down to $13.63. These figures, it must be remembered, represent royalties due now and do not disclose the total earnings of the books, save in the case of the posthumous novel. The writer, it appears, lived up to his income, and depended upon his new productions to provide him with funds for his necessities. Some novelists have accumulated fortunes by putting away their royalties over and above the actual needs of existence on a moderate scale, but these have been exceptional cases.—Washington Star.

The Horseman—Did you ever see a horse jump six feet over a gate?
The Cynic—Didn't know a horse had six feet.

HIS POINT OF VIEW.

"Ah were in the wah, sah!" asserted the colored man who was begging.

"Did you stand your ground when a real battle came?"

"No, sah; I done run!"

"What? Did you run at the first shot?"

"Yassuh. An' if I'd knowed it were comin' I'd run befoh him wah fired."

"This is a horrible confession of cowardice. Do you consider your life more worth than other people's lives? Is your life worth more than that of your brave captain or that of your intrepid general?"

"Yassuh. It was worth more to me, sah!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer

SOMETHING NEW.

"Running for office, I see."

"Yep."

"Forced into it by your friends, eh?"

"Nope."

"Answered the party call, then?"

"Nix. I'm after the office solely for the salary attached and if I'm elected I'll try to get all my relations jobs."

"Well, on the frankness of that statement I propose to vote for you."

FLY TALK.

"Hear you have had an addition to your family," said the first fly.

"A slight one," admitted the second fly. "This morning 200,000 baby flies arrived. Come on, and I'll set up the ptomaines for the crowd."

GOT RICH QUICK.

"On my coat of arms I shall have a bull rampant."

"Why a bull? Any bull connected with your family history?"

"No, but I made my money on a bull market."

READS LESSON TO MOTHERS

Decision Made by Supreme Court Justice in Brooklyn Something of a Warning.

Supreme Court Justice Marcan in Brooklyn awarded a decree of divorce to Mary S. Sidway from Harold S. Sidway, son of Mrs. Franklin Sidway of Buffalo, N. Y., $350 a month alimony and the custody of their two sons. The defendant did not contest the action, but when the question of alimony was brought up he said he was in the real estate business and was earning $300 a month.

Sidway's mother, according to his wife, is worth $5,000,000. Sidway told the court that he didn't think his mother was worth more than $1,000,000 and that he was one of five children. In fixing the alimony at $350 a month Justice Marcan remarked:

"If a woman brings up her son in idleness with the idea that he is to inherit something, what the mother is worth is clearly admissible in determining what alimony the son shall pay."

SIMPLY DON'T MAKE IT PUBLIC

Most Men Travel Under Their Wives' Management, but the Fact Is Kept Concealed.

Dr. Thomas W. Brophy of Chicago, who claims that American motherhood is the highest type in the world, was asked if this was not partly due to the unusual amount of responsibility the American husband allows his wife in family affairs.

"Quite true," Dr. Brophy replied. "The confidence her husband places in her makes the American mother capable and self-reliant. The mother's share in a family's success or failure is a large one—much larger, indeed, than most men will acknowledge."

"I see by the papers," a friend once said to me, "that Footlights is traveling under his wife's management."

"So do most men," I replied, "but they don't advertise it."

DANGEROUS BARGAIN DAYS.

I think that bargain days are becoming more and more dangerous, writes a New York city woman. I went to a hat sale recently. There were moments when I thought I had broken my neck, not to mention an arm and a leg or two. At last I escaped with a hat and struggled through to a clerk. I asked her to give me a mirror.

"Mirror, madam?" said she. "We never have mirrors on sale days. We let them break the furniture, but we draw the line at the mirrors. We're superstitious about broken mirrors."

ADVANTAGE OF LIBRARIES.

Miss Caroline Hewins, librarian of the Hartford public library, says that there are only fifteen states in the Union that have no library commissions. She cites the state of North Carolina as an illustration of the advantage of libraries. Eighty-two per cent of the population is in the country. Seventy-seven federated women's clubs in the state assist with funds and there are eighty study libraries; the largest, at Raleigh, has 11,000 volumes and an income of $3,000.

SIMPLE, ONCE YOU KNOW.

"How do you manage to keep your cook, Mrs. Enfield? You have had the present one several years, haven't you?"

"Yes, Mary has been with us ever since we began housekeeping. I find it easy enough to keep her. Whenever any of our neighbors offers her a dollar a week more than I'm paying her I give her a raise of a dollar and a half. It's very simple."

RECENT ACQUISITION.

"What is that awful knob on your forehead?"

"That is my bump of adversity."

"Bump of adversity? That's a new one on me."

"It's a new one on me, too. I got it this afternoon when my head came in contact with a beam in the cellar."

INSIDIOUS SCORN.

"Are you really looking for an honest man?" asked the suspicious citizen.

"No," replied Diogenes. "Confidentially, I am merely taking this method of letting my neighbors know what I think of them."
